

Welcome to Mary Ann's Book Corner

After years of service on the missions field - to introduce the French speaking world to Jesus Christ, we would like to introduce you to some excellent Christian literature that can change lives for Jesus Christ. As part of Bibles & Literature in French, we ask you to pray for the Francophone world - to come to know Jesus as Savior and Lord. —Russ & Mary Ann Miller

This week we'd like to feature a new book just released by BLF Éditions by David Powlison - "Good and Angry" (in English) - "Chrétien en colère" (in French)

Here are some notes about this important book for us all ...

From the youngest infant to the most venerable grandfather, anger is a universal human experience. We all get angry, often in a bad way. But anger can be a legitimate fashion of reacting in the face of evil and a powerful motivation to action in favor of victims of injustice.

David Powlison affirms that anger isn't "a problem to control", something that we ought to get rid of. Anger is the complex response of human beings who live in a complicated world. We ought to learn to manage it so that it produces good fruit.

The author examines the roots of anger looking at a very surprising aspect: the anger of God Himself. Powlison recalls that God also got angry. But God's anger doesn't change under manipulation or by attempting to control it. No, His anger is good and a source of redemption. It is both our model for change but also the power that permits this change.

Author David Powlison of "Good And Angry" "Chrétien en colère"

"Good and Angry" will help you to express more often your anger in a manner that is righteous, constructive, and that will bear good fruit. Powlison offers practical counsel to those who struggle with irritation, discontent or bitterness and prudent help for reacting in a constructive manner when things don't go the way you want them to go.
